

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

An application for determining energy drivers is disclosed. The application analyzes quantity metadata and energy usage data to determine at least one relationship. The quality of the relationship is further assessed. Based on the determined relationship and the assessed quality, the energy driver is identified.